- Donor coordination has improved and resources to trade flows are larger and better co-ordinated. This is the part, at least by the establishment of a database on projects relating to trade, the preparation of analyses on existing capacities and deficiencies that must be corrected in order to increase the efficiency of trade-related projects.
- In addition, the perception of the trade as factor of growth and poverty reduction is imposed, and in turn, one force of attraction to increase the aid for trade. This has resulted in an increased demand for bankable projects, which has been satisfied by the capacity-building for the formulation of projects related to trade and the strengthening of the productive capacity of the economy.
