

Quality assurance and control

- Quality assurance and control should not be mixed up with acceptance of the findings, conclusions and possible recommendations of the evaluation. The evaluation teams have the final responsibility for the contents of the reports.
- Any disagreements among the members of the evaluation team or between the evaluation team and relevant partners that are significant to conclusions and recommendations should be reflected in the report, either in the form of comments in the text, footnotes or as a special section.