

Isabel Jiménez G
Counsellor
Delegation of Costa Rica for OECD Affairs

Biography

I am part of the Paris-based team working on Costa Rica's accession to the OECD. I am responsible for the portfolios of development, public governance, environment, education, social policy and employment. I also serve as Costa Rica's representative to the OECD's Development Centre.

I have a degree in Political Science by the University of Costa Rica, I am a M.Sc. in Diplomacy and Master in International Relations by the University of Melbourne. I have recently completed The Wharton School's Executive Programme on Data Analytics.
AusAID awardee.