This edition of the Eurostat-OECD PPP methodological manual is the product of the Task Force set up by Eurostat to oversee the revision and updating of the 2005 edition of the manual that was published in 2006.

The Task Force was established in the fourth quarter of 2010. It was chaired by Paul Konijn (Eurostat) and its principal members were Scott Johnson (United Kingdom), Harri Kananoja (Finland), Francette Koechlin (OECD), José Mouronho (Portugal), Fabrice Romans (France), Sergey Sergeev (Austria) and David Roberts (editor).

The Task Force met five times between November 2010 and February 2012: Eurostat (12 November 2010), OECD (4-5 April 2011), Eurostat (27-28 June 2011), OECD (17-18 October 2011) and Eurostat (13-14 February 2012).

Countries participating in the Programme received preliminary versions of individual chapters and annexes between July 2011 and July 2012 and were invited to comment on them either on the wiki designed for the purpose, at the meetings of the Eurostat PPP Working Group or by email. Countries were presented with a complete version of the manual in September 2012 with a request for further comments.

The manual was drafted by David Roberts with contributions from Paul Konijn. Eurostat funded the editor and the Task Force.

Eurostat and OECD would like to thank all people that contributed by providing comments and suggestions for the improvement of this manual.
