

Mongi Boughzala is currently professor of economics at the University of Tunis El-Manar. His PhD is from the University of Minnesota. His main interests are in monetary economics, trade and macro policy and in labour economics. He has published in several journals, including the International Labour Review, Saving and Development Quarterly Review and the Annales d'Economie et de Gestion published by the University of Tunis El-Manar, of which he is an editor. He has contributed to a number of volumes, for instance to Competitiveness in the MENA Countries, edited by Subidey Togan and Hanaa Kheir El Din, in the ERF Research Report Series (2003), to La mondialisation, Origines, développement et effets, edited by James D. Thwaites, Les presses de l'Université Laval, Canada, and to Monetary Policy and Central Banking in the Middle East and North Africa, edited by David Cobham and Ghassan Dibeh, Routledge, 2009. He recently edited with David Cobham a volume on Inflation Targeting in MENA Countries: An Unfinished Journey, Palgrave, 2011.