

Government at a Glance

DOI: http://dx.doi.org/10.1787/gov_glance-2015-en

ISBN 978-92-64-23346-1 (PRINT)

ISBN 978-92-64-23347-8 (PDF)

ISBN 978-92-64-23494-9 (HTML)

© OECD 2015

Corrigenda

Government at a Glance 2015

Page 84. Employment in the public sector

The last sentence of the third paragraph should read as follows: "In contrast, Denmark, Norway and Slovenia experienced increases of over one percentage point."

Page 85. Employment in the public sector

Data for Switzerland for figures 3.1 and 3.2 for the year 2013 have been withdrawn.

Page 87. Women in the public sector employment

Data for Switzerland for figure 3.3 for the year 2013 have been withdrawn.

Page 88. Women in politics

The second and third sentence of the first paragraph in the Methodology and Definitions sections should read as follows: "Data refer to share of women parliamentarians recorded as of 1 February 2015, 31 October 2012 and 25 October 2002. Countries in light orange represent lower or single house parliaments with legislated candidate quotas as of January 2013."

Page 93. Main institutional features of the centres of government in the OECD countries

Figure 4.1: Data for the Netherlands have been revised to 102 for the Centre of government employment and to 0.4 for the share of CoG staff over the central government employment. Data for the Slovak Republic have been revised to 540 for the Centre of government employment.

Page 101. The fiscal sustainability challenge of health systems

Title of figure 5.3 should be as follows: "Number of years with or without overruns in health between 2006 and 2012"

Page 204. Members of the Steering group

The first line for Mr Michael Kallinger at the Title/position column has been amended to "Head of Unit".