

Selection of the OECD Secretary-General

Chair of the Selection Committee's report concerning the withdrawal of a candidate

20 January 2021

1. On Tuesday 19th January, Chris Liddell (United States of America) informed the Chair of the Selection Committee that he has withdrawn his candidature for the post of OECD Secretary-General.
2. The Chair would like to record the thanks of all OECD Members to Chris Liddell for his willingness to be nominated for the position, and for the spirit with which he has engaged in the process.
3. Further rounds of consultations will be undertaken over January and February.
