

Short Biography

José Maria Rabelo

Mr. Rabelo is a retired public employee of Banco do Brasil, Brazil's largest bank, having reached the vice-presidency of International and Wholesale Division of this Institution and had also occupied the direction of International Trade Division at Banco do Brasil.

He was the chairman of one of the councils of PREVI, currently, the largest pension fund in Latin America and was also a member of BrasilPrev board. He is graduated in Law and has an MBA for senior executives and Advanced Management Program of Amana-Key.

Today he is the Superintendent of PREVIC (National Superintendence for Pension Funds – Brazil).