

Table of Contents

Abbreviations	9
Assessment and Recommendations	11
CHAPTER 1. HIGH EMPLOYMENT BUT AN UNEQUAL SOCIETY ..	29
1. A booming economy until 2008, with strong improvements in labour market outcomes	30
2. The current recession poses major challenges	33
3. Employment remains concentrated in low-tech and low-skilled activities	34
4. Regional disparities persist	38
5. A well-educated workforce but many blue-collar jobs	39
6. Declining and ageing population	41
7. Difficult integration of ethnic non-Estonians	43
8. An unequal society	48
9. Conclusion	49
References	50
CHAPTER 2. FLEXIBILITY WITH LIMITED SECURITY	53
1. Introduction	54
2. Employment protection	56
3. Labour law enforcement	62
4. Labour taxation and undeclared work	65
5. Industrial relations	68
6. Unemployment compensation	72
7. Labour market services	79
8. Improved lifelong learning system	88
9. Conclusion	89
References	91
Annex 2.A1. Employment protection in Estonia	95

CHAPTER 3. CHALLENGES OF SOCIAL POLICY	97
1. Overview	98
2. Supporting families and children	102
3. Estonia's three-tier pension system needs to be consolidated	111
4. Conclusion	118
References	119
Annex 3.A1. Household incomes and social benefits by decile	121

Boxes

Box 0.1. Summary of recommendations	28
Box 2.1. Labour market and social policies to address the crisis	55
Box 2.2. The new Employment Contract Law: key changes from 1 July 2009	58
Box 2.3. The taxation of work income	65
Box 2.4. The social partners in Estonia	69
Box 2.5. Unemployment benefits	73
Box 3.1. Cash benefits and tax allowances for families with children ...	103
Box 3.2. The Estonian pension system	112

Figures

Figure 1.1. GDP per capita in Estonia and selected OECD member countries, 1999 and 2008	30
Figure 1.2. Incidence of long-term unemployment in Estonia and OECD countries, 2008	32
Figure 1.3. Unemployment, real wage growth and labour productivity growth, 2004-09	33
Figure 1.4. Changes in employment by economic sector, 2008-09	34
Figure 1.5. Part-time employment and paid holidays, 2008-09	34
Figure 1.6. Employment by economic sector in Estonia and selected OECD countries, 2008	35
Figure 1.7. Employment by firm size, 1989-2008	36
Figure 1.8. Education attainment of the population aged 25-64, 2007	39
Figure 1.9. Unemployment rate of Estonians and non-Estonians, 1997-2009	44
Figure 1.10. Distribution of Estonian and non-Estonian workers by sector, 1989 and 2008	45
Figure 2.1. Employment protection in Estonia and OECD, 2008	57
Figure 2.2. Temporary employment in Estonia and OECD countries, 1997 and 2008	59

Figure 2.3.	Part-time employment (<30h/week) in Estonia and OECD countries, 2008	61
Figure 2.4.	Complaints submitted by employees to the Labour Inspectorate, 2006-08	63
Figure 2.5.	Tax wedge on labour costs in Estonia and selected OECD countries, 2007	66
Figure 2.6.	Trade union density in Estonia and OECD countries	68
Figure 2.7.	Minimum wages and coverage in OECD member and accession countries, 2005 and 2008	72
Figure 2.8.	Net income replacement rates for single persons receiving unemployment benefits, 2008	75
Figure 2.9.	Unemployment benefit recipients in Estonia, 2003-09	77
Figure 2.10.	Newly registered unemployed persons, by reasons for leaving work, 2008-09	78
Figure 2.11.	Expenses of the Unemployment Insurance Fund, 2003-08	80
Figure 3.1.	Impact of tax and benefit systems on income inequality in selected EU countries in 2006	99
Figure 3.2.	Sources of households' disposable incomes in EU countries in 2005	99
Figure 3.3.	Public social expenditure by broad social policy areas in 2005	100
Figure 3.4.	Social assistance and housing benefits for a single person without children in 2007	109
Figure 3.5.	Old-age dependency ratios (age 65 to 15-64), 2010 to 2050	115
Figure 3.6.	Trend in the employment rate of 55-64-year-olds	116

Tables

Table 1.1.	Labour force status of the Estonian population, 1997-2009 ...	32
Table 1.2.	Value added per worker, employment and wages by economic sector in Estonia, 2000-08	37
Table 1.3.	Regional disparities, 2008	38
Table 1.4.	Youths (aged 15-24) in the labour market by education attainment, 2008	40
Table 1.5.	Employment by occupational group (ISCO) in Estonia and OECD, 2006	40
Table 1.6.	Main demographic characteristics of the Estonian population, 1989-2050	42
Table 1.7.	Unemployment rates by ethnic origin and language skills, 2002-07	46
Table 1.8.	Correspondence of education level and job by gender and ethnic origin, 2006	46

Table 1.9.	Poverty and inequality indicators, mid-2000s	47
Table 1.10.	At-risk-of-poverty-rates by age and labour status, 2000-07 ...	48
Table 2.1.	Evolution of the minimum wage in Estonia, 2002-09	71
Table 2.2.	Main activity of unemployed people prior to their registration, 2008-09	78
Table 2.3.	Workload indicators for public employment centres in selected OECD countries	82
Table 2.4.	Public expenditure on active labour market policies, 2008	86
Table 2.5.	Share of at-risk groups among registered unemployed people, 2007-09	86
Table 2.6.	Participation in lifelong learning in Estonia and the European Union, 2002-08	88
Table 2.A1.1.	Estonia's employment protection scores, 2009	96
Table 3.1.	Composition of the Social Insurance Board's budget	101
Table 3.2.	General periodic benefits to families in 2000-09	105
Table 3.3.	Institutions for childcare and pre-primary education	107
Table 3.4.	Net income-replacement rates in 2007 for selected household types with social assistance	110
Table 3.5.	Number of pensioners and average pensions (before tax)	117
Table 3.6.	Indicators of old-age poverty	118
Table 3.A1.1.	Household income by source and equivalised deciles in 2006	121
Table 3.A1.2.	Public income transfers by type and equivalised income decile in 2006	122