

Roman MENDLE manages the Smart Cities Program at the ICLEI and heads ICLEI's work on City-Business Collaboration. Roman and his team enable the 1500 cities in the ICLEI Network to navigate the smart cities and circular economy space and help them find and evaluate solutions to sustainability challenges. He also manages the Urban Transitions Alliance, supporting industrial and post-industrial cities to transition towards sustainability and a local green economy, decoupled from emissions and resource use.