

Giovanni A. Barbieri, a regional economist by raising and by passion, has been a free-lance in applied economics and a professional user of statistics since 1977, before moving to Istat (Statistics Italy) in 1994. He is currently in charge of the Division for Users' Needs, Integration and Territory. He is Vice-Chair for the OECD Working Party on Territorial Indicators.